WSBC: Tradition, Innovation and Success

WAITE, SCHNEIDER, BAYLESS & CHESLEY HAS EARNED A national reputation for pioneering personalized, unique case strategies for both individual and complex case management. The result: reducing litigation risks and enhancing successful outcomes for clients.

Founded in 1860, WSBC is the oldest continually operating firm in Cincinnati. For more than 140 years, the firm's attorneys have been devoted to creating a proud legacy of providing the highest level of quality and excellence, client by client, case by case.

CORPORATE AND SECURITIES LAW In recent years, WSBC has forged a growing reputation for leading edge representation in corporate law, antitrust cases and securities fraud. The firm's expertise also extends to aviation, commercial litigation, complex tort, corporate governance, general business, government relations, personal injury and wrongful death, mediation, proxy campaigns and stockholder rights.

A champion for individuals, public and private companies, retirement funds and government agencies, WSBC has achieved record-setting results against formidable opponents, including big pharmaceutical giants and government contractors. As co-lead counsel, the firm successfully negotiated an unprecedented $300 billion settlement with big tobacco.

WSBC's long and distinguished history includes winning a groundbreaking award of $2.7 billion as co-lead counsel against the Libyan government for the families of passengers killed by terrorists in the explosion of Pan Am Flight 103 over Lockerbie, Scotland. The firm achieved major victories for their clients in Dayton, Power and Light and Freddie Mac securities litigation on behalf of pensioners worldwide.

EXPERIENCE AND EXPERTISE That dedication to excellence has not gone unnoticed. Five attorneys at WSBC have been named to the Super Lawyers[®] list: Stanley M. Chesley, the firm's president; James R. Cummins; D. Arthur Rabourn; Louise M. Roselle; and Robert A. Steinberg. Christopher D. Stock has been named to Rising Stars.

Chesley has been appointed national president of Jewish National Fund and worked to build a bomb-safe playground for the children of Sderot in Israel. He also has been named to the board of trustees for the University of Cincinnati.

An AV-rated firm, WSBC works hard to maintain clients' trust with zealous, innovative, detail-oriented representation. The firm's lawyers sweat the small stuff, while focusing on the big picture. When individuals, groups and businesses are looking for a go-to firm, the 17 attorneys at WSBC stand ready to serve.
